At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy at I per cet., the last loan being made at 1, closing offered at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 3@51/2 per cent.

Sterling exchange dull but firmer, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.88@ 4.88% for demand and at $4.86%@4.87 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.871/2@4.89; commercial bills, $4.85\\@4.85\\.

Silver certificates, 60%c bld. Bar silver closed at 59%c per ounce; at London, 27%d. The toal sales of stocks yesterday were 218,260 shares. During the first hour of business on 'Change the trading was very light. The market sagged off at once on selling by the bears. Before noon it was developed that London was again in the market as a buyer, and that offerings of stocks were readily accepted. By degrees the pressure to sell was removed, and in the afternoon the early sellers became buyers, resulting in an advance which continued until the close, the final sales being made at prices 4@14 higher than the closing sales of yesterday. The upward movement was on heavy purchases said to be made for the account of a new bull pool organized by insiders. Reports were also circulated that the Attorney-general of Illinois had reached a conclusion against the Chicago Gas, instituting quo warranto proceedings. Cotton Oil common and preferred rose 1 and 2 per cent., repectively, on favorable trade prospects. Lead pre-ferred gained 1% and the common 1% on buying for a bull pool. Sugar, which receded % in the early dealings, became strong during the afternoon on the covering of short sales made yesterday, and advanced 21%, closing within 1% of the highest point touched. Sugar preferred advanced %. Louisville & Nashville made a gain of 1%, mainly on London buying. The grangers recorded an improvement of %@1 per cent., the latter being in St. Paul, in which the foreign buying was heaviest. Burlington & Quincy opened % higher, and then on Boston selling, broke %, rallying during the afternoon on strong buying, touching 82%, an advance of 1% from the low point of the morning, of which 1% was lost at the close. Atchison opened 1/4 higher, and then declined 1/4 on Boston selling. Lon-these selling orders were out of the way the stock recovered %, closing even on the The bond market was steady in the morncipal changes on the day being: Advances Louisville & Nashville consols and Wabash debentures, s. ries B, each 2; Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western, Michigan division firsts, each 14; Atlantic & Pacific fours, Texas firsts and Northern Pacific seconds. & New Albany fives, Louisville & New Albany consols and Denver & Rio Grande fours, each I. Declines—Union Pacific, Den-ver & Gulf firsts, 1%; Toledo, Peoria & Western firsts and Northern sinking fund fives, each 1. Northern Pacific seconds registered sold at 85, against 81 on Feb. 1. Government bonds were firm; State bonds don bought moderately of the shares, and room traders followed suit, causing a recovery of %. Among the other leading advances on the day's transactions were 11/4 in LOCAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE. Trade More Active with Prices Ruling Much the Same as in Days Past.

Wholesale streets, yesterday, presented a more active appearance than on either Wednesday or Thursday. The cheerful sun helped matters somewhat. Dry-goods $1.5002 houses had the best day of the week. Druggists report trade quite satisfactory, paints and oils moving freely. Hardware men report trade slow in starting up. The hide market is not as active as a few days ago. Commission men are complaining, the business of the present week dropping fully 50 per cent. below that of the week ending March 24. In prices there were no important changes. Poultry and eggs are firm at the advance of 1/2c yesterday The provision market has taken on a firmer tone, and on some descriptions of hog products a

THE BALANCE OF TRADE.

Mr. Adams Thinks It the Most Important Factor in Financial Conditions. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: I notice in this morning's Journal an editorial entitled "What Free Silver Coinage Would Do." From my standpoint free silver coinage has nothing to do with the results shown as to the condition of Mexico in this editorial. Free silver coinage would neither drive out nor expel gold from this country; nor is it true that inferior money, as to intrinsic value, drives out money of superior intrinsic value. This is done by a different process. The only way that the two classes of money can be made to circulate together is that there is no foreign demand which is paramount for the superior money. This is proven by the fact that since gold resumption in January, 1879, gold, silver, and paper have continually circulated as currency, representing the same legal value, when, in point of fact, silver was of much less commercial value than gold and paper had no commercial value except as supported by redemption in gold. What then is the cause of these different classes of money being interchangeable and circulating together without either the superior or the inferior qualities being driven out of circulation? The reason is obvious to every one who considers the situation. During this time the average production of gold from our mines was about thirty millions per annum, and the average balance of trade in our favor was over one hundred millions per annum. This was paid in gold or the equivalent of gold. Consequently there was no demand outside of our internal com-merce for our gold coin. And it was not worth more in our business transactions than either one of other kinds of money. In the use to which it could be put it was no better than either of the other kinds of money. Therefore they circulated harmoniously without discrimination in favor of any one. But let conditions be changed as they will be changed under the Democratic free-trade tarlif. The products of our mines will be decreased by the general depression of labor and the business condition, and the balance of trade will be of trade can only be paid in gold, because gold is the only money accepted in all the exchanges of the world. This will create a demand for gold which will not drive but will draw gold out of the country. Gold in that contingency will no longer be used in our internal commerce, but it will be withdrawn for foreign use. The only way that we can keep up our stock of gold and the value of our silver and paper currency is by keeping the balance of trade in our favor, so that gold will be flowing into the country instead of flowing out of it. This can only be done by so protecting American laborers as to secure to them our home markets, for every dollar's worth of foreign goods within the lines of production where we can supply the demand which is sold in this country deprives the American laborer of that much labor, curtails our wealth to that extent and sends the dollar across the water, which dollar to us and our business is absolutely lost forever, and thereby deprives us of our gold, because gold alone can pay these debts. The passage of the Wilson or Senate tariff bill will result in large importations of the productions of foreign labor in which we have heretofore controlled and supplied the market, and will thus deprive our laborers of our own work and create a foreign obligation in the exchanges of the world, which can only be paid in our gold. Our whole financial prosperity is involved in the simple question of our own people doing our own work or having our work done in foreign countries because they will do it cheaper. The Democratic poricy is, as shown in these bills, to have our work done across the water, leave our own people idle and send our gold out to pay for this foreign labor. The true American policy is to do everything at home which can be done here by our laborers and buy nothing of foreigners which we can buy of our own laborers or manufacturers. In fact, the balance of trade is nothing more nor less than the balance between the exports of the products of our labor and the imports of the products of foreign labor. Any policy which turns this balance against us deprives our laborers of the work which justly belongs to them and robs us of the wealth and money which justly belongs to our people and country. The country, or people who receive the margins, become wealthy, while the people or country which pays the margins becomes poor. I am unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver until the silver dollar, by some international commercial agreement, can be placed on an equal footing with the gold dollar in the exchanges of the world. My reasons for this are: First, that the free colnage of silver would give to the owner of silver bullion at least cents on the dollar more than silver is worth, which would sooner or later rob the honest business and laboring people of the country of that amount, not once, but every time that it passed in legal tender as a payment of a dollar. Such robbery as this can not be sustained from any standpoint of honesty or fair dealing. Sec-ond, it would result in making this the dumping ground for all the free silver bullion of the world and our gold would be called for and taken out of the country to pay for this silver bullion, because the purchasers would make exorbitant profits without taking any risk whatever. This would create the condition of turning the balance of trade very largely against us and would absorb all of our gold in a very short time. This would result in a run on the United States treasury for the redemption of greenbacks in gold, which would impoverish the treasury and de-preciate the high credit of our government, because the government could not raise a sufficient supply of gold to redeem the legal tenders from day to day to supply this drain on our gold. Whenever this government becomes a bidder for gold in our own markets or in the markets of the world to supply such a drain as this the result will be that gold will go to a premium and the credit of our government will no longer be above par, but will depreclate below par and we will be on a silver basis. The Etiquette of Visiting. Ladies' Home Journal. Married women leave their husband's cards with their own; that is to say, one is left for the gentleman of the house and one for the hostess. A dinner party demands a call within two weeks, but this is not required after a tea or a large reception. If a friend is ill it is proper to call in person and leave a card with kind inquiries written upon it. A very pretty English fashion is gradually finding its way here. After a severe iliness a lady may send by mail to all the people who have called to inquire for her an engraved card, reading in this way: "Mrs. James Brown presents her compliments and her thanks for recent kind inquiries." This does away with the necessity of making visits when one is still in ill-health, and yet it is a recognition of the courtesies received. It is polite, also, to leave a card of congratulation when a new baby appears in the family, but one is never expected to ask to see the mother. Visits of condolence are made a week after the funeral. A card is left and no effort is made to see those who are in sorrow. A number of women have asked me if it is proper to send invitations to friends who are in mourning. Of course, one would not do this until after a month had passed, but after that time it is quite proper, and certainly our friends who have had sorrow come to them do not like to think that they are forgotten. It is no longer considered in good taste to have "R. V. P." in the corner, but, instead, are the English words, "The favor of an answer is requested." This is, however, never written on a dinner invitation, for that presupposes a reply.

Chicago Wheat Up Another Cent and Provisions Rising.

Corn and Oats Were Firm Though Dull, Traders Working the Scare of Crop Damage to the Leader.

CHICAGO, March 30.-Wheat advanced 1c per bushel to-day on a very moderate amount of buying. It closed with a net gain of %@%c. There is now no doubt of considerable injury having been done to wheat in many sections. There was much testimony to that effect, and the result was a firm market. Corn and oats were fairly firm, but very dull. Provisions were strong and quite active in spots, with higher prices

Although the cold had greatly moderthan it closed yesterday. The numerous dispatches which had come to hand before the session opened reporting fresh damage in more positive terms than before, were the cause of opening firmness, and continued to be the governing influence in the market during the remainder of the session. Liverpool responded to the decline here yesterday by sending quotations 1/4d lower. The receipts here were 28 cars. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 222 cars. Clearances from the seaboard were light, amounting from the four chief Atlantic ports to only 230,000 hushels. Business was fairly active, and the shorts, after hesitating about fifteen minutes, became free buyers. The general tone among the longs was one of confident firmness, and the price had an upward tendency after the first quarter of an hour. May opened at 60%c, worked off to 59%c sellers, and then gradually rose to 60%c. It reacted to 60%c, advanced to 61c, and held firmly around 60%@60%c, with an apparent reluctance on the part of the sellers to part with much. It became firmer again, and half an hour from the close was up to 61c. The closing cables were weak. Berlin quoted a decline of 11/2 marks, and Paris a drop of 25 centimes in flour futures, and from 5 to 15 centimes in wheat. There were no reports of fresh cash business here or at New York. The market here was quoted at

Corn was dull but firm, and the firmness was in the main ascribed to the improvement in wheat. The opening price for May was 37%c. It rose by small steps to 37%c, and during the greater part of the session was alternately 371/6/37%c, buyers, and the same price sellers. The price rested at 371/2c for May, which shows no change for the day, and 384c for July, which is an improvement of 1/4c.
Trading in oats was very light. There was but little disposition to sell, and even less to buy. The cash market was lower. During the entire session prices on all futures were higher. May started steady at 31%c, sold up to 31%c, back to 31%c, and closed at that price bid.

There was a firm feeling in the provision market after a preliminary decline. The packers appeared anxious for a break at the start, but when they had secured the decline there were brokers from commission houses prepared to take all that was offered. Some ascribed the buying to Armour chiefly, but the packers generally and through their own brokers were buyers later. The small stocks, estimated at 72,000 bris of pork, 2,000 tierces of lard and 10,-000,000 lbs of ribs, was a factor, and probably the principal motive behind the buying orders. Compared with last night, May pork is 324c higher, May lard .05c higher, and May ribs .10c higher. Estimated receipts for to-morrow are

To prevent the juice from ples running over, thrust little funnels of white paper into the cuts on top, through which the steam may escape and the juice boil up, and then run back into the pan again when it stops cooking. It is very vexing and annoying to have one's lips break out with cold sores, but it is better to have them out than in. A drop of warm mutton suet applied to the sores at night, just before retiring, will soon cause them to disappear. Most cakes need a moderately hot and some even a cool oven. A good old test is to put a piece of thick paper into the oven, to shut the door and open it again after five minutes. If the paper is of a light brown color the oven is moderately hot, and if yellow the oven is cool.

Inexperienced housekeepers and experienced ones, too, for the matter of that, frequently have quite a little trouble about having cake stick to the pans. This may be avoided in a very simple way. Butter the pans thoroughly, then dust them lightly with flour, turn bottoms upwards and rap lightly to remove any superfluous flour, then put in the cake in the usual way. Many people do not wash cake pans, but rub them with a piece of brown paper until smooth, and then put them away, using them for no other purpose. This and the dusting with flour after buttering will do away with the difficulty complained of.

More Activity to Business in the East with the Report from Western Points Not So Flattering.

NEW YORK, March 30 .- R. G. Dunn & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The more active tone in business this week is in part due to the belief that no disturbance of the currency will be permitted, but other causes helped forward improvement. Slowly, but yet quite perceptibly, the force at work increases. The approach of spring compels the dealers to replenish stocks. and the aggregate of orders, if smaller than usual at this season, is distinctly larger than in January or February. Except in speculative markets, prices do not recover, and in some instances have gone lower, but the absence of sensational records inspires hope that the bottom may have been reached. Business, though small, is exceptionally cautious and safe, and its slow gain is more encouraging than a heavy expansion. Wheat rose briskly with reports, due every year about April 1, that great injury has been sustained. Later accounts were better and prices fell, closing 2c higher for the week. Western receipts for four weeks have been only 6,829,063 bushels, against 11,522,740 last year, but exports are very small. Corn receipts for four weeks have been 12,773,748 bushels against 1,935,115 last year, so that the tonnage of the two grains taken together is as large as a year ago. Pork products have sharply advanced, though corn but little. Cotton has advanced an eighth, the weekly movement being more favorable to the holders, though 200,000 bales have already come into sight in excess of the entire crop, according to some so-called investigation. Failures for the week number 238 in the United States against 166 last year, and thirty in Canada against twenty-eight last year. The liabilities for the three weeks

March thus far reported have been

$10,061,911, of which $4,698,118 were of manufacturing and $4,425,082 of trading concerns. The returns so far indicate a smaller aggregate for March than for February. Bradstreet's Trade Review. NEW YORK, March 30.-In its review of the state of trade Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: The features of the businesa will include evidences of increasing volumes of trade at Eastern cities, which are offset by checks to the movement of staple merchandise at other centers, owing to storms and cold weather, and by damage to crops caused by the unusually low temperature West, Northwest and South. All Western cities note the unfavorable influence of recent cold weather, except in the drug business at Detroit, which is said to be fair, and at Louisville jobbers in dry goods and hardware say the demand has increased, as in building materials, also. There is a smaller volume of trade in most lines at Chicago, an exception being among dealers in pig iron, where the demand ex-ceeds expectations. A similar report is made by St. Louis dealers in crude iron and by jobbers in dry goods, millinery, hats, hardware and shoes. Kansas City fruit and produce men are said to be discouraged at reports of killing frosts. At ago, although buyers in many instances are disposed to make larger purchases. At Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth the feature in trade circles has been the temporary check to business due to unseasonable cold weather. Portland, Ore., reports that business is improving very slowly, while at San Francisco the movement in staples is sluggish. Wheat there is less active for export, the feature
